At the Moment

4405 Students and counting

Dear Friends and Partners,

With the start of the new year, we are happy to be welcoming our second-intake students into the university. We are currently serving 4405 students for the academic year 2021/22. A number that we dreamt of one day.

At the moment, we have 6 faculties housing 22 departments that offer 33 degrees in different domains and areas of study both at undergraduate, postgraduate and research degree levels.

In addition to our degree programmes, we have teams committed to creating and implementing projects and development interventions that help us expand our scope of work to our communities and use our capacity for the betterment of Sierra Leone.

Our projects cover different fields such as entrepreneurship, food security, integrated agriculture approaches, mental health research, futurism studies on good governance, peacebuilding and more.

We are proud to be positioning Sierra Leone on the research map of various spheres through our staff's commitment to producing quality research that meets international standards and fills gaps that may exist for our region.

Our focus for the new year, is to continue include our students in the different research functions and prioritise their capacity building as part of their preparation to become active and serviceable citizens for our beloved country, Sierra Leone.

Building a civilization of love

UNIMAK welcomes second set of incoming students

On the 22nd of January 2022, UNIMAK administration held an orientation for our new incoming students for the academic year 2021/22. Our Registrar introduced the students to the University operation and the academic calendar. We are very excited to be welcoming new members to our UNIMAK family and preparing them to join the Sierra Leone labor force with adequate skills and know-how.

Yvonne Aki Sawyer gives a lecture on democracy in SL

Freetown City Council Mayor - Aki Sawyer-visited UNIMAK on the 28th of January 2022 to deliver a public lecture about democracy in Sierra Leone. She discussed the opportunities for a more robust and consolidated democracy, challenges faced and had a fruitful discussion with our staff and students on the way forward. UNIMAK remains at the forefront of creating change in the peacebuilding scene through promoting active citizenship and creating awareness on good governance through renowned figures that we greatly appreciate.

Skills Development Fund vocational students completed internships

The Faculty of Agriculture and Food Sciences, through the Skills Development Fund project funded by the World Bank through the Sierra Leone government, provides internship opportunities to 37 students of the vocational training programme. UNIMAK presents different programmes for different academic levels to build competencies in soil management, animal husbandry and crop management skills at the vocational level.

Our Law students making us proud

Every year, UNIMAK Law graduates excel in their exams and this year is no exception. Our graduates are called to attend Bar exams to join the judiciary system in Sierra Leone. We are extremely proud of our alumni and their efforts to position our university at a reputable position in the higher education service provision scene.
